

Description

The Futuregrowth Flexible Income Composite aims to deliver excess return through a combination of interest bearing asset allocation, active interest rate risk management, appropriate yield curve positioning and exposure to higher yielding fixed and variable rate non-government bonds. The Composite is also mandated to invest in inflation-linked bonds, listed property and preference shares. Delivering a stable income is balanced with a commitment to utilise market opportunities to seek maximum capital gain, but also to revert to strategies to protect capital when market conditions turn negative. The composite is not limited by duration constraints. The benchmark is 110% of the South African STeFI Call Index.

This allows us to see a large degree of deal-flow on a continuous basis and keep an eye on ever-evolving credit events in the market. In the unlisted space, our specialist structuring skills allow us to make loans that ensure lenders achieve the greatest degree of investor protection through loan terms, covenants and security while ensuring risk-adjusted returns with good diversification.
